How the World's Fair Laborers

AND WHAT IT COSTS THEM

Eleven Cents for a Dinner Fit Enough for a King, and no Charge for Extra Orders--The Commissary in Charge of a Private Corporation---The Plan Might be Extended to Manufacturing Centres.

Chicage, Nov. 23 .- A good case to illustrate what can be furnished at prices within the means of the commonest workingman is offered by an-institution now operated within the World's Fair grounds. There is a big temporary frame hostelry there, neat in all its ap pointments and scrupulously clean, that is run by a company under the name of the Columbian commissary. The concern is strictly a private corpo ration or company, the president of which is Robert Greer and the secretary and treasurer B. R. DeYoung. The The main building is 200 feet long by 50 feet wide, with a wing on either side midway down the building. The structure is two stories high.

The ground floor of the main building is utilized as a dining hall which will accommodate 1,200 persons. To the right are a washroom where fifty men can wash at once, a barber shop equipped with four chairs, and three private bathrooms. To the left lie the kitchen and storerooms. The upper floor of the main building is the dormitory. Hows of wide berths three feet high extends from one end of the room to the other. Each berth —there are about 500 of them altogether —is furnished with good wire springs, a —is furnished with good wire springs, a mattress, clean sheets, a pillow and two blankets. The bed-clothes, by the way, are kept scrupulously clean and are periodically disinfected. Over the bathroom and barber shop is the reading-room for the men, and over the kitchen are the storeroom for the bedding and the officer's sleeping-room.

Ground was broken for the building last August, and the place was opened October 1. The whole structure is October 1. The whole structure is thoroughly heated by steam and light-ed by electricity. To provide against accident there are four fire-escapes. The rooms are all well ventilated and the greatest order and cleanliness prevails throughout. In the dining room the tables, of which there are several rows extending from one end to the other, are of hard wood. The walls of all the rooms are whitewashed and are as clean as could be desired.

as clean as could be desired.

The point to which special attention should be called, however, is the board, and the rates that are charged for it. Tickets are issued to the men at the price of St, each ticket being good for twenty-one meals and four lodgings. Single meals are put at 20 cents, two meals and lodgings at 60 cents, and so on proportionally for all fractions of a week. Counting ladging at 25 cents of the contract on propertionary for an inactions of a week. Counting lodging at 25 cents a day—the usual rate for similar accom-modations at the cheaper lodging houses in the city—it would leave $2.25 for twenty-one meals, or less than 11 cents a meal, or about 32 cents a day, a price that would not cut deeply into the wages of an ordinary laborer. With this statement of prices in view

With this statement of prices in view it would be well to examine the bill of fare for a week. By working people delicacies are scarcely expected or looked for. What is wanted is good, substantial food and plenty of it, and that is just what is served. There is practically no difference between breakfast, dinner and suppose a rearrile what is set forth. and supper as regards what is set forth. The meals are all substantially the same, the chief-difference being that coffee is served for breakfast and dinner and tea for supper. The following is the bill of fare for the week ending to-day:

Monday—Roast beef, pork and beans, rice a la creele, potatoes, cabbage, lima beans, taptoca pudding, coffee.

Thesday—Boast beef, spare ribs and sauerkraut, green peas, potatoes, turnips, bread and fruit pudding, coffee.

Wedireshay—Boast beef, roast pork, potatoes, navy beans, stewed carrois, rice pudding, cof-fee.

Saturday—Roast beef, boiled beef, and horseradish, sauerkraut, may beans, turnips, potatoes, taptoca pudding, coffee.

Sunday—Roast beef, roast pork, soused pig's feet, potatoe-scalbage, raw bests, rice and raisin pudding, coffee.

The necessary equipment has just been put in the kitchen and from the present time on soup will be furnished with every meal.

present time on soup will be furnished with every meal.

About 200 men now live at the commissary. For the most part they have no financial dealings with the proprietors of the establishment. They simply receive a ticket good for the week's board and lodging and sign an order on the contractors for whom they work for the $4. The company assumes its own risks. If a man quits work or if at the end of the week it is found that he has lost so much time that he has not enough coming to him to pay the bill the company is the loser.

Life in the commissary is regulated as far as it is possible by fixed rules. Breaktast is served from 6 to 7 in the morning, dinner from 12 noon to 1 o'clock in the afternoon, and supper from 5:30 to 6:30 o'clock in the evening. There is no limit put upon the amount served the boarders at meals, and there are no extra orders. Each man orders till he is satisfied, and it is no uncommon thing for a boarder to have three or four meat orders and the man orders till he is satisfied, and it is no uncommon thing for a boarder to have three or four meat orders and five or six cups of coffee at a single meal.

No liquors are allowed in the house and no profanity is permitted. Offensiveness in person or habits is not tolerated. The lights are put out at 10:30 o'clock. For the accommodation of the men their laundry is sent out and the manager of the commissary is held responsible for the payment of the bills, which are in every case paid before

"I believe," said a leading citizen yesterday referring to the heat day at Legilay.

"I believe," said a leading citizen yes-terday, referring to the hostelry at Jack-son park, "that in every manufactur-ing and business center, and in fact throughout the city, there should be such institutions, conducted by private enterprise, but at prices studiously ar-ranged to meet the circumstances of the laboring poor. In every communithe laboring poor. In every communi-ty like Chicago there are thousands of people who are practically homeless and who receive such meagre pay that they can hardly make both ends meet. It is needless that the laboring classes who are thus circumstanced should pay out the major part of what they earn for mere shelter and food. If such hotels and boarding places were conducted in a proper way they would be patron-ized, and if located where rents would and II located where rents would not be enormous, the proprietors of them could afford to put the price of board down almost to nothing. The temporary expedient resorted to for the accommodation of the workingmen at the fair grounds should suggest a permanent institution."

A Lost Yacht.

Chicago, Nov. 23 .- About six o'clock last evening a Jackson park policeman saw a yacht pitching about man saw a yacht pitching about in the Lake. The water was very rough, and a few moments later the yacht capsized. An alarm was at once given the life-saving crow but up to 1 o'clock to-night they had been unable to discover anything that would give them a clue to the identity of the yacht, or those on board of her. Two persons were seen allowed. of her. Two persons were seen aboard the yacht and are thought to have been drowned.

A Bliscellaneous Melange of Minor Matters from Marshall's Metropolis

Saturday evening Deputy Marsha! Robert Rodocker arrested a young, man by the name of Lucas, drunk. He was taken to the mayor's office, and while awaiting for Mayor Steele, Rodocker wentout and Lucas quietly followed him and made a break for liberty. A large wentout and Lucas quietly followed mm and made a break for liberty. A large crowd was present, but said nothing till Lucas was at full speed and half a square away. They then called the marshal's attention to him. James H. Fountain and his son seeing the man with the crowd in hot pursuit supposed a murder had been committed. They with the crowd in hot pursuit supposed a murder had been committed. They ran back to the house and got their gans and several dogs and took across the field to head Lucas off. This they succeeded in doing, and Mr. Fountain placed the muzzle of his gun in his face and halted him, making him throw up his hands. When he learned that the man had been pulled in for a plain drunk he shouldered his gun in disgust, and telling the fellow to skedaddle, went back to the house covered with mud.

Saturday Mr. S. W. Mathews received some elegant and much prized presents from Mr. Charles Vauple, an employe of the Fostoria glass works, there being a beautiful spittoon, a large globe about four feet high to cover his fine large white owl, Lewis. The bird was killed some time ago in this county and given to City Marshal Lewis Velton, who presented it to Mr. Mathews, who had it stuffed. There were also two glass hats among the lot of prezents, but the most prized of all was a large glass weight eight inclies in diameter, with a picture of Miss Marian Mathews in the centre in a gold field, surrounded by a beautiful wreath of flowers of all colors. Miss Marian was the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mathews, and died three years ago. This is a fine piece of artistic
